

SPEECH TO COMMEMORATE A PAST-AWAY TEACHER:

英文電子報

To commemorate Professor Huang Hsien-tang, who passed away because of liver cancer, Department of Japanese held a “Japanese-Taiwanese Memorial Speech in Honor of Professor Huang Hsien-tang” on December 25. Professor Chao Shuen-wen of NTU, a good friend of Professor Huang, was invited to make a speech. The fund raised by school teachers and alumnus was carried to Professor Huang’s wife Lee Li-Yun. However, she insisted on not accepting the money, and had the money donate to school instead.

Professor Huang worked at TKU for more than twenty years. On his past-away anniversary last week, many teachers and alumnus voluntarily donated more than 130,000 NT dollars as the educational fund for his children. Dr. Peng Chun-yang, Chair of Department of Japanese, handed over the fund to Professor Huang’s wife. However, Lee Li-yun refused the fund and donated the money to school. And she said sobbingly, “I appreciated what they have done for us. My children and I have to be independent although Professor Huang had gone. Thank everybody very much.” (~ Peiling Hsia )
