

NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF SINGAPORE VISITED TKU: EXCHANGING EXPERIENCES OF LIFE SAVING

英文電子報

National University of Singapore and ROC Water Life Saving Team visited TKU at 2 p.m., Feb. 25 to exchange the experiences of life saving. After receiving souvenirs given by Dr. Chen Kan-nan, Vice President for Administrative Affairs, Water Life Saving Association made a report and held a friendly competition with TKU at 2:50 p.m.

Because Tamkang University won one gold, five silver, and three bronze medals in national life saving competition a few days ago, Chiu Tsung-ming, a lifeguard of TKU and a coach of National Water Life Saving Association, put effort to foster this activity. "I support this kind of interflow when I received this information at January, and President C. I. Chang expects this activity to increase students' understanding of life saving." said Hsieh Hsing-chu, Director of Office of physical Education. Wu Yi-fang, a swimming team coach at TKU and also a member of Taiwan National Swimming Team said "TKU performs brilliantly at several national Swimming Contests, and TKU is successful in teaching Life saving techniques. I believe we will gain a lot from this interflow." (~Lin Wen-hua)
