

A Platform for Cooperation between Academia and Industry

學校要聞

TKU is one of the leading universities in the ever-expanding field of culture and creative industries. It offers a diverse array of courses that provide students with cross-discipline knowledge and expertise related to Taiwan's culture and creative industries. For this reason TKU was invited, by the Chinese Television System, to jointly establish a "Platform for Cooperation between Academia and Industry". The opening ceremony for the "Platform for Cooperation" was held on October 31 with the President of TKU, Dr. Flora Chia-I Chang, in attendance.

The "Platform for Cooperation" will take the form of personnel training and exchange, program development and marketing, TV station operation and management, TV station resource management, academia-industry joint projects, and other cooperative initiatives involving the media and the culture and creative industries.
