At the ceremony, the university conferred its 3rd honorary doctoral degree, recommended by the Dean of the College of Business and Management, Dr. Li-Ren Yang. President Keh presented the degree certificate to Joseph Wang, Chairman of Sinbon Electronics Co., Ltd., an alumnus of the Mathematics Department. This is in recognition and appreciation of his significant contributions to society and his wholehearted support and provision of resources for the development of our alma mater.

After the ceremony, various departments continued to host a wide range of exciting activities. The Secretariat and General Affairs Office held the launch ceremony for the nation's first Campus Sustainability Cloud in collaboration with Microsoft and FET at Hsu Shou-Chlien International Conference Center. The Extracurricular Activities Section organized a campus carnival on Poster Street and the University Commons. The Tamkang University Alumni Association Headquarters and the Alumni Services Office held alumni reunion activities on the 3rd floor of Hsu Shou-Chlien International Conference Center. Additionally, each department organized alumni gatherings and social events, inviting everyone to enjoy the festivities together.

The Orchid Exhibition at Anniversary Celebration: Rare Denphale Orchid Won the Championship

To celebrate the 73rd anniversary of the university, the General Affairs Office hosted a University Anniversary Orchid Exhibition titled "the Melodic Orchid Rhyme" in the Black Swan Exhibition Hall from November 2 to 4. A total of 409 orchid plants from all over the country were exhibited. Chairperson Flora Chia-I Chang also visited on the morning of November 3 to appreciate the beauty of the orchids.

The exhibited orchids were divided into 5 categories based on their attributes. After a professional judging process, the "Rare Denphale," cultivated by Chi-Tien Hung of Guangtian Orchid Garden, received the majority of the judges' approval and won the championship. Additionally, 30 exceptional, 40 outstanding, and 50 commendable orchids were also selected during the event. Dean of General Affairs, Dr. Ruey-Shiang Shaw, welcomed everyone to celebrate the university anniversary and invited them to come to the orchid exhibition to "appreciate the beauty of orchids."
